This not only would be convenient for people who is staying at the Novotel, but students from both Insearch and UTS, and also the office workers in the building opposite, can enjoy a cheaper alternative for food, snacks or drinks. 2. Each drawing is drawn in single line isometric showing elements and internal structure while the related environment is explained by notes. Bow-Wow had first realised the large number of unconventional buildings that existed in Tokyo while working on the project 'Made in Tokyo'. They then publish in several books which encapsulates their 'solutions', documents the process, research and solution of how these ideas had come about. After this discovery, they found more and began creating their own take on these types of buildings by utilising unconventional shapes and coming up with innovative resolutions for the important parts of the building like windows, air conditioning and drainage. Examples of Atelier Bow-Wow's architectural drawings Atelier Bow-Wow is an architecture firm based in Tokyo, Japan, that was founded in 1992 by Yoshiharu Tsukamoto and Momoyo Kajima. Located on Hackett St, near Ultimo Travel Group, UTS Insearch and Study House, this space is built on top of existing buildings in which will be a closer and an alternate option for students turn to when the study house is full. This shop is filled with nothing but vending machines for people to go in and buy things like snacks, drinks and other miscellaneous objects (e.g. umbrellas). Bow-Wow also drew incredible details and a human figure in order to show scale comparisons. Examples of Pet Architectural Drawings For this project, with Bow-Wow's influence and their idea of seeing things as a whole (environment and architecture included) instead of just architecture on its own, I came up with my solutions for pet architecture that I think would benefit people who are located around Insearch. Not only would students and the public be able to have easy access to see these works, but it would also be more convenient to those who want to see the displays as it is located in an 'easy-to-find' area. It is shaped like a battery, in order to better fit its location — 'Power'house museum. Mini Cylinder Library by Kristy W The gap between the wall and the railing of the stairs Location on Map I have decided to create a mini cylindrical library in the gap between the wall and the railing of the stairs, located on Macarthur Street, opposite Omnibus Lane and Systrum Street. Also with it being a near both Insearch and UTS, it allows students of other faculties to see these works due to the fact that it is on campus and they will not have to travel to another place in order to view these works. Battery Cafe by Kristy W Space outside the back of the Powerhouse Museum Location on Map In the small space located right outside the rounded end of Omnibus Lane and outside the back of the Powerhouse Museum, I have designed a café styled restaurant which utilises the large amounts of empty space at the back of the museum. Although the existing pet architectures albeit a bit strange, they are highly functional and in this case, it helps us realise the down to earth philosophies that underlie popular Japanese designs. Pet Architecture Typology as seen in 'Pet Architecture Guide Book' by Atelier Bow-Wow Photograph, Map of location and Axonometric Drawing Atelier Bow-Wow approaches architecture differently as they create investigative projects in order to discover and note down the various typologies of Tokyo. Included in the book are descriptions, a full page photograph of the space and a 3D sketch of the eccentric building. Then photos were taken for quick and immediate record of initial thoughts and discoveries, then they drew various drawings to figure out the actuality of each example. It is almost like having a cheaper convenient store for staff, students and the public. Exhibition Centre by Kristy W Space on the wide stairs outside UTS Business School and Business Practice Building Location on Map I have decided to design a triangular exhibition centre in the area of the wide stairs outside the UTS Business School and Business Practice building in which both students and professional artists can exhibit their work. Students, staff and tutors alike can also more conveniently find a quiet space to be able to do their work and is conveniently close to the battery coffeshop. Like Bow-Wow, for a moment, I wanted to forget the categorical divisions between architecture, civil engineering and geography and instead sought to see things as simple, physical unities. Vending Machine Shop by Kristy W The space between Novotel (Left) and Wilson Parking (Right) Location on Map I decided to create a 'vending machine shop' in the small space between Novotel and Wilsons Parking is located conveniently between both UTS and Insearch. Bow-Wow also used different mediums as they made an initial list of buildings which had stood out in their everyday lives and proceed to question and discuss the question 'What is Made in Tokyo?'. By having the library in a cylindrical shape, it allows this library to have various levels — expanding the library using as little space as possible. Student Lounge by Kristy W Potential space on top of existing building near UTS Insearch, Study House and Ultimo Travel Group Location on Map I decided to create a student lounge in which students can have an alternative space to study, relax, game and spend time in between classes. This mini library will not only be a convenient alternate option for students wanting to use quiet space for doing homework and readings but people who visit the Powerhouse Museum is able to also visit this library for activities that are organised by the Powerhouse Museum staffs. Considered as one of the most innovative architecture firms today, they are 'household names' in their field and are well known for their works ranging from architectural designs to urban researches and artworks created with the theory of 'behaviorology' in mind. A page taken from 'Pet Architecture Guide Book' by Atelier Bow-Wow Examples of existing Pet Architecture in Tokyo, Japan Atelier Bow-Wow first devised the term 'Pet Architecture' to address the buildings that have been created in the left over spaces in the urban area, they considered 'Pet Architecture' as 'a study of urban Micro Projects that slip in between and around the existing urban fabric'. 2.
